

Driving to Southern Ocean Lodge

From Penneshaw Ferry Terminal (90 Min/130 km):
See A on Map

- Drive up the hill from the ferry terminal and along the coast to the right.
- Stay on the Hog Bay Road, passing both the Pelican Lagoon on your right and the turn off to American River. Continue on until you reach a "T" junction. This is the intersection with Elsegood Road and is 48 km from the ferry.
- At this point turn right and almost immediately left onto Arranmore Road.
- After 4 km the Kingscote Airport is on your left. The airport has excellent public facilities which are open in daylight hours.
- Follow directions from Kingscote Airport.

From Kingscote Airport (50 Min/80 km):
See B on Map

- Drive out of the airport and turn left onto Arranmore Road. Less than a kilometre down the road you will come to a "T" junction – turn left.
- The Playford Highway becomes the Birchmore Highway and then the South Coast Road.
- After 44 km you will come to Vivonne Bay where there is a General Store on the left.
- Continue heading west for another 30 km when you will come to Hanson Bay Road on the left – there is a blue "Southern Ocean Lodge" sign on the street post. Up until this point the road has been a high standard sealed road. Hanson Bay Road is unsealed and can be corrugated and dusty.
- After 3.5 km the main entrance gate to Southern Ocean Lodge will be obvious on the right. Simply press the intercom button and you will be connected to the Lodge reception for entry.
- It is then a short 3 km drive through the coastal bush to the luxurious wilderness refuge, Southern Ocean Lodge.

Driving on Kangaroo Island

A few tips to driving on this island dubbed 'the zoo without fences'!

- Fill up with petrol before 6pm and ensure you have a generous supply.
- Watch for wildlife on the road:
  - dawn and dusk - feeding time
  - night - travelling time
  - day - sleeping time
- Drive carefully as many Island roads are unsealed.
- Kangaroo Island is a rural community so you may find farm machinery, trucks, and even sheep and cattle being moved on the roads.
- In short – expect the unexpected.
